Do you periodically wake up on the wrong side of the bed, dreading the inevitable reality of having to go to work? If your company were to offer you a lot of money to quit your job, would you do it?

Each year, workers at Amazon receive a message saying "Please Don't Take This Offer." The offer is simple. If you want to quit, they'll pay you to go. Workers in their first year get $2,000 to quit. That number increases by $1,000 every year until it reaches $5,000.

You would think those who were paid money would work faster, but that wasn't the case. It took them three and a half minutes longer than the first group of
