Alabama Sports Betting Sports betting in Alabama is not yet legal, but it isn't 9;t for lack of effort.

Most recently, State Senators introduced two bills (SB 293 and SB 294) that woul d have put Alabama sports betting on the November 2022 ballot.

The good news is the study concluded that if lawmakers do legalize AL sports be tting, they should follow certain "best practices" that would be condu cive to a healthy and robust industry.

Daily fantasy sports (DFS) sites and apps are legal in Alabama thanks to a law p assed in 2019 that instituted a licensing regime, regulations, and a 10.

The ruling in that case likened daily fantasy sports to crane machines, which a Iso involve risking real money on a game that's part luck and part skill.

Alabama was one of just a few holdout states with legal greyhound racing until B irmingham Race Course ended live greyhound races in 2020.

The odds of online gambling in Alabama becoming legalized do not appear great o ver the short term, but lawmakers have studied the issue and may consider action in the future.
