Types of Online Gambling at Internet Casinos

The best online casinos also offer at least a few kinds of poker, including video poker.

Yes, you can win real money through online casinos - but you need to deposit real money as well.

When you refund an order, you send payment back to the customer. You can refund an entire order or only part of an order. You can also refund an order without creating a return, but you can't create a return after a refund has been issued. In some circumstances, you can cancel an order and issue a refund.

You can find the Acquirer Reference Number (ARN) in the order timeline under the refund details. ARNs are available for all refunds through Shopify Payments that are sent to a Visa or Mastercard.

Optional: If the order includes duties and import taxes, then select whether you want to refund Duties and import tax on refunded items and Additional fees: Customs clearance.

If you're sure that you want to refund the order, then tap REFUND to confirm.

If a customer made a purchase using a gift card and another method of payment, then when you perform a partial refund, the refund is applied to the gift card first, until it reaches the full amount available for refund. Then rest of the refund is applied to the other payment methods. You can adjust the refund amounts manually for each payment method up to the amount that is available for each payment method. For example, if a partial refund amount of $50 is applied to the gift card, but you can apply up to $20 to a credit card, then you could split the refund by applying $30 to the gift card, and $20 to the credit card.

The detailed transaction history for the order is displayed in the Timeline section of an order's overview page and includes returns, refunds, and restocking information.

From your Shopify admin, go to Orders.

Swipe the screen down to the Timeline section.
