Just under half of likely voters favored Proposition 30, which would require wealthy Californians to pay an additional 1.

“When voters are undecided, they tend to vote no.

Newsom’s strong opposition to Proposition 30 appears to be its greatest threat, DiCamillo added.

“The ‘No’ campaign has it easier.

When a referendum challenging a state law qualifies for the ballot, the law is suspended until voters can decide whether it should go into effect.
